We are especially excited that it's going to be held at the Q Center in St. Charles which is from Accenture standpoint the heart and home of our learning. We have about a thousand of our people on campus each week that really live out the whole globalism message for learning... one of the reasons we so enjoy being part of the Chicagoland learning leaders programs is we get to share with others with some of the things that we have been up to ... and then to learn from others"
