

Be recognized for your commitment to learning and development

There are many Chicago area companies that use cutting-edge and creative policies to keep their workforce sharp. If this sounds like your company, visit www.workforceChicago.org to learn more about what it takes to win.

Mayor Daley personally honors those organizations that show an exemplary commitment to the learning and development of their employees through the Annual WorkforceChicago Awards. Nominate your company today. Nominations must be submitted by March 8, 2010.

WorkforceChicago consists of a group of business leaders who are committed to building a skilled and educated talent pool in their own companies and throughout Chicagoland. You can learn more about past winners by visiting:
